DETAILED ACTION

1. This communication is responsive to Amendment filed 03/03/2005. Claims 1, 11 are independent claims. In the Amendment, no claims have been amended, canceled, or added.

EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

2. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mr. Charles G. Call on March 08/2005.

2. The application has been amended as follows:

- Cancel claim 2.
- Claim 1 has been amended as:

Apparatus for performing location-dependent data processing operations comprising, in combination,

a relational database management system for creating and updating data structures comprising a first set of one or more relational tables describing objects, said data structures including means for storing data specifying the geographic location of at least selected ones of said objects;

means for storing reference data in a second set of one or more relational tables describing a plurality of system defined regions, said reference data including the specification of the geographic location of each given one of said system defined regions and a human interpretable description of each given one of said regions; ;

a user-manipulated control, comprising:

means for visually displaying to a user said human interpretable description for said system defined regions, means for accepting from said user an identification of a plurality of system defined regions, and means for generating the specification of a new user defined region consisting of the combination of said plurality of system defined regions, and means for storing reference data describing said new user defined region in said second set of tables, and means for identifying a selected one of said regions described in said second set of tables, and means for transferring data specifying the geographic location of said selected one of said regions to said first set of tables to specify the geographic location of a specified one of said objects; and means responsive to said control for transferring selected items of said reference data to said means for storing geographic location data associated with one of said objects.

- Claim 11 has been amended as:

A method for performing location-dependent data processing operations comprising, in combination, the steps of:

- creating and updating data structures describing objects in a first set of tables in a relational database management system, said data structures including data specifying the geographic location of at least selected ones of said objects; ;
- storing reference data describing a plurality of system defined regions in a second set of tables in said relational database system, said reference data including the specification of the geographic location of each given one of said system defined regions and a human interpretable description of each given one of said system defined regions; ;
- employing a user-manipulated control for performing the substeps of:
 - visually displaying to a user said human interpretable description for said system defined regions,
 - accepting from said user an identification of a plurality of system defined regions, and
 - generating the specification of a new user defined region consisting of the combination of said plurality of system defined regions, and
 - storing reference data describing said new user defined region in said second set of tables, and
 - identifying a selected one of said regions described in said second set of tables,
 - and
 - transferring data specifying the geographic location of said selected one of said regions to said first set of tables to specify the geographic location of a specified one of said objects; and transferring said reference data describing said new user defined region to said data structures to associate said new user defined region with one of said objects.

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The present invention is directed to a method for employing a user-manipulated control, which permits user to specify and store user-defined geographic regions by selecting a combination of system-defined regions from a visual display. The specification of the new user-defined region is stored in a second set of relational database tables and is transferred to the tables describing objects to associate the new user defined region with one of those objects

Claims 1, 11 identify the uniquely distinct step of: identifying a selected one of said regions described in said second set of tables, and transferring data specifying the geographic location of said selected one of said regions to said first set of tables to specify the geographic location of a specified one of said objects

The closest prior art, Weisshaar et al. (US 6,580,916) shows a substantially similar method for matching service requests to available services. However, Weisshaar et al. fail to anticipate or render the above-cited limitations obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance".
